Zoo Crew

In 2027, DR. ARTHUR JONES was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for remarkable breakthroughs in bio-engineering and cybernetic applications – pioneered with his brilliant partner Dr. Richard Torn – which saved countless animal species from extinction in the aftermath of disastrous global climate change.

The subsequent rift between Dr. Jones & Dr. Torn after Torn's formation of the anti-human FURY FORCE, motivated Dr. Jones to form the ZOO CREW as a defense against Torn's misguided intentions.

Taking the codename of "ADAM" (inspired by the biblical story of the original namer of animals), Dr. Jones now works to save the planet from his vast underwater base, perfecting new technology and spending quality time with his engineered orca whale Spot, who features a yin/yang symbol on his black & white skin – a reminder of the balance of nature.

Zoo Crew

Being evil doesn't mean being humorless, as DR. RICHARD TORN'S codename demonstrates. In his persona at "STRICTER", and with the cybernetic coils of his enormous bio-engineered python, Dr. Torn is a twisted terror.

Yet every villain is a hero in their own mind. In Torn's case, outrage over mankind's ruin of the earth and the desperate plight of animal species around the world, caused Dr. Torn to take aggressive action. But the idea of using weaponized animal creations against human beings didn't sit well with his research partner Arthur Jones, causing a rift between the two former friends and resulting in an ongoing struggle between Torn's FURY FORCE and Jones' ZOO CREW.

Torn's twisted genius has inspired a horrifying progression of bio-engineered "animal cocktail" mutations, some of which are truly monstrous.

Husker (codename: ALPHA)

True to his codename, HUSKER is the “Alpha Dog” of the Zoo Crew: the leader of the pack who never backs down from a challenge. Husker leads by example, charging headlong into danger with no apparent regard for his own safety. His style comes not from recklessness, but from unwavering self-confidence in his incredible athletic ability and battle smarts. Together with his cyborg canine partner, Fang, Husker makes a formidable opponent.

Husker’s on-again/off-again relationship with Deena, and the tension between him and Edward, keeps life in the Zoo Crew interesting.

Buddy (codename: RUBBLE)

Most people think BUDDY'S codename, "Rubble", comes from his love of "Flintstones" cartoons. But after seeing him in action they quickly realize: rubble is all that's left after Buddy comes charging through. Although this engineering student and star football player has the ability to go over, under or around obstacles... he finds it more fun to smash right through them!

Buddy has a soft spot for his rhino partner, Daisy, who is remarkably sweet when she's not knocking down walls.

Edward (codename: EINSTEIN)

EDWARD is the son of Zoo Crew founder and famed scientist Arthur Jones. This young genius is out to prove himself with a vengeance after being passed over by his father for leadership of the Zoo Crew in favor of Husker – unaware that his father has chosen so out of concern for his son’s safety... and a painful secret.

Edward’s cyber-engineered dolphin partner matches his intelligent personality and mimics his father’s orca whale partner. Edward is annoyed by his codename, “Einstein” (given to him by Husker), since he regards Albert Einstein as a slacker who wasted his potential.

Deena (codename: FOXY)

One look at DEENA and you know she's hot... literally. The temperamental high school beauty queen and her bioengineered fire fox partner are notorious for burning hearts and butts – in the classroom and on the battle field.

Deena's fiery relationship with Husker is complicated by the clash of their personalities and Husker's unstated (but unmistakable) attraction to the mysterious Seryph.

Seryph (codename: DARKWING)

Shrouded in mystery, SERYPH'S life changed forever when she deserted her hateful father Dr. Torn, and teamed up against him with the Zoo Crew. Husker is fascinated by Seryph, Deena despises her, Edward doesn't trust her, and Buddy could care less.

Seryph's skill as a champion archer, combined with the aerial power of her black eagle partner, make her a valuable asset to the Zoo Crew – much to her father's fury.
